Book 9-1

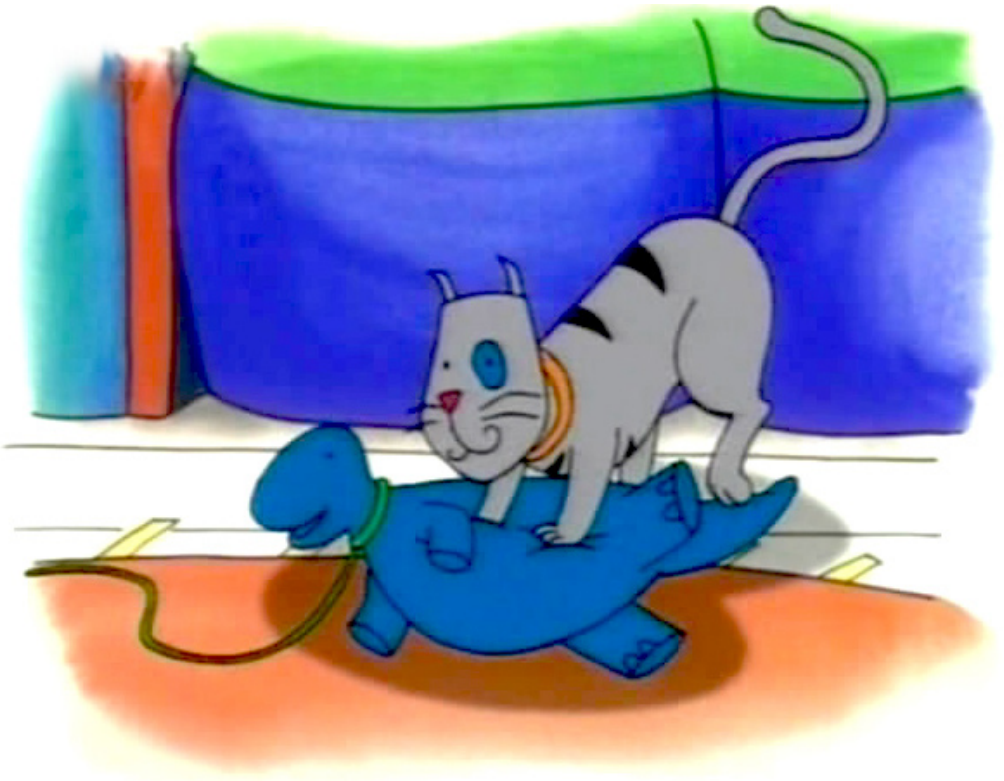

caillou looks for gilbert

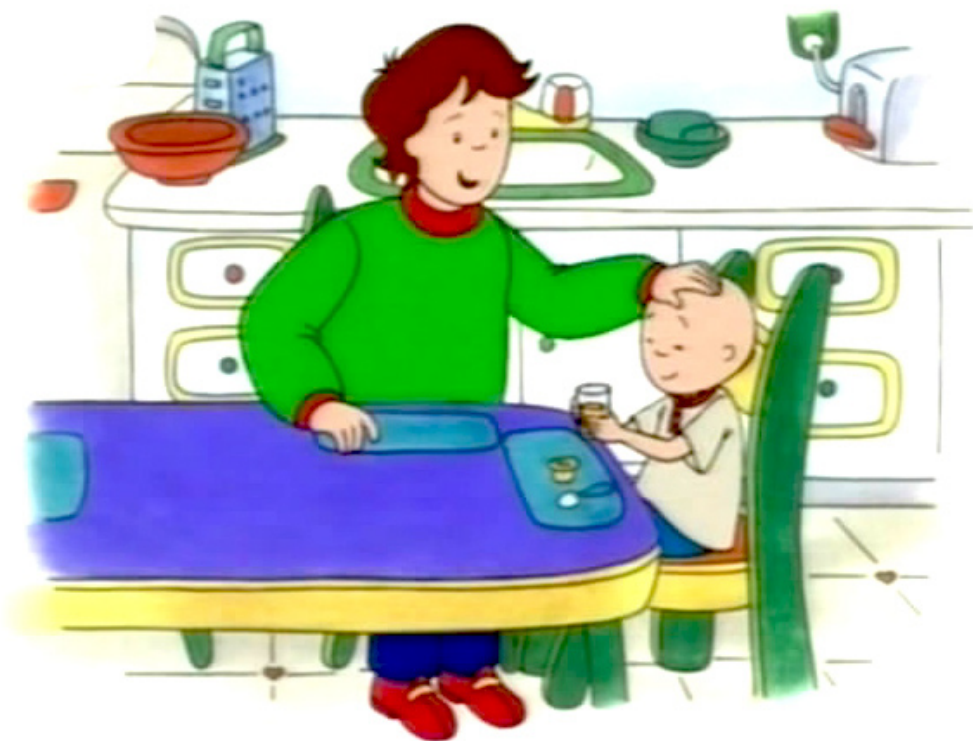

Storyteller: Where are you hiding? It's story time. Ah, there you are. Now let's see what Caillou did today. It's a story called "Caillou Looks for Gilbert".

Caillou: Ready, Gilbert? Help, Gilbert, help. Yay, Gilbert. Help, Gilbert. The dinosaur's after me.

Storyteller: Caillou loved to play dinosaur hunter. It was even more fun when Gilbert joined in.

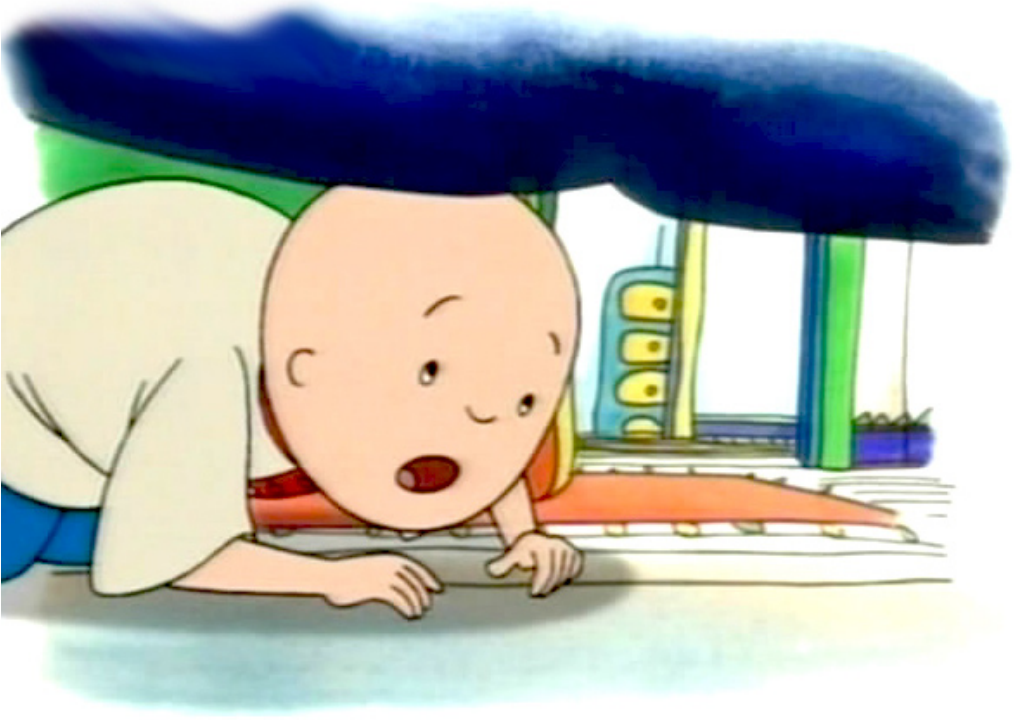

Daddy: Caillou, snack time.

Caillou: Gilbert, you stay here.

Daddy: Hi, Caillou. What have you been getting up to?

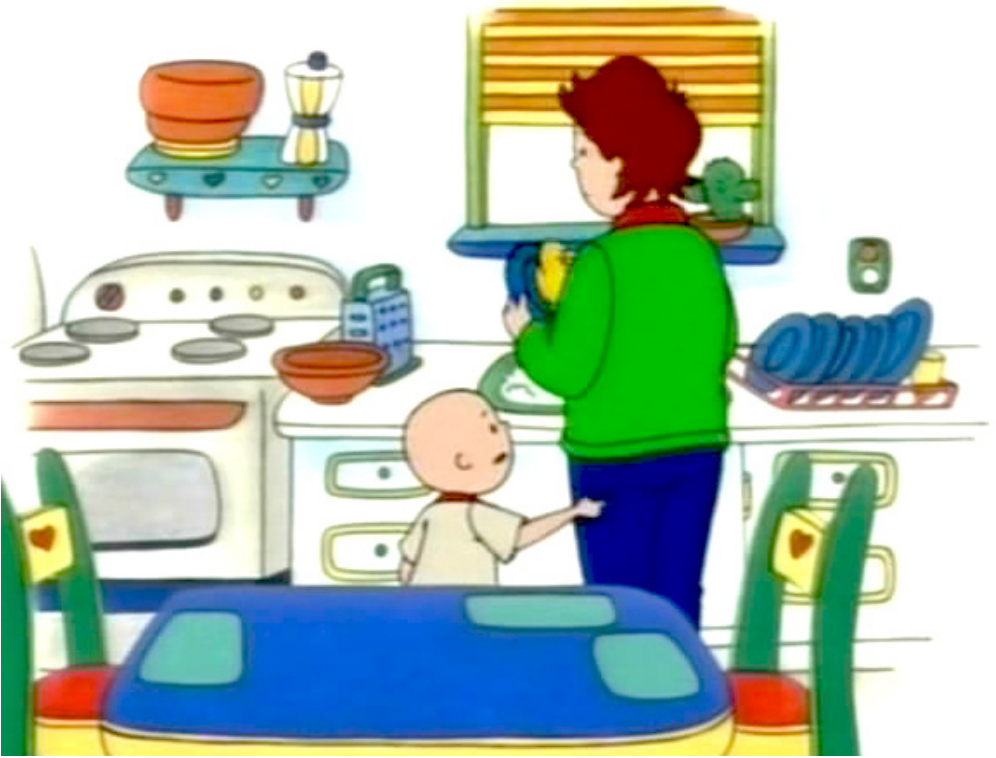

Caillou: I was playing with Gilbert. I saved him from the bad dinosaur.

Daddy: Did you? You must be very brave to go dinosaur hunting.

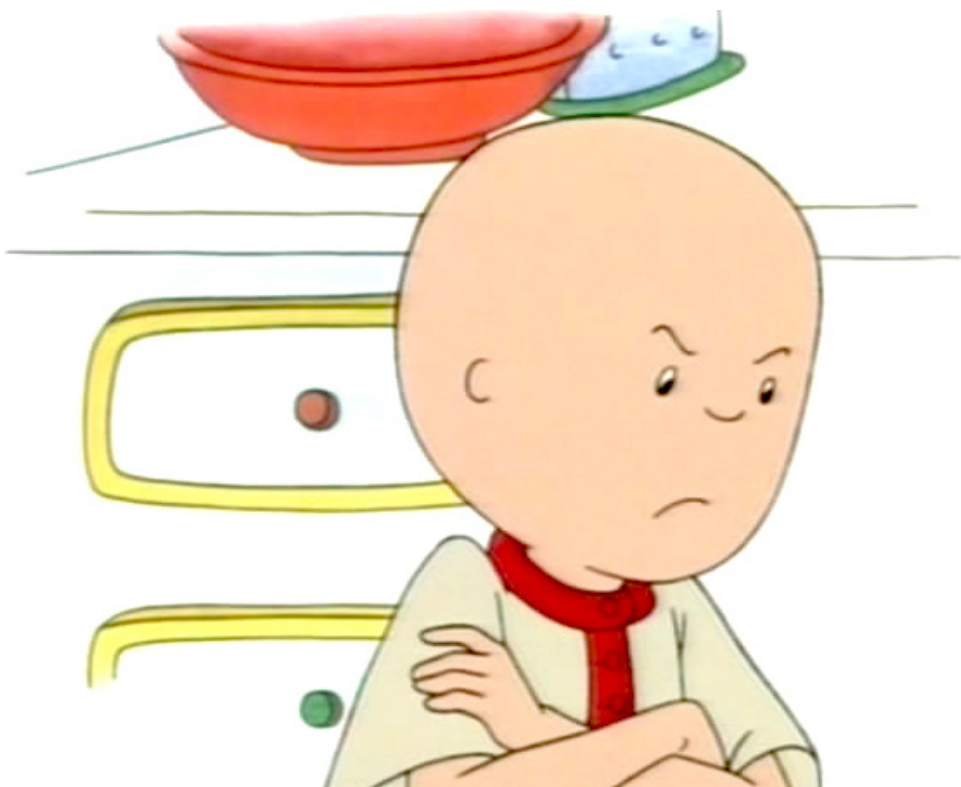

Caillou: Come out, Gilbert. Let's play now.
Gilbert, Gilbert, where are you?

Storyteller: Caillou was upset. He'd told Gilbert to stay, but Gilbert hadn't listened to him.

Caillou: Daddy, Gilbert's gone. He didn't wait for me.

Daddy: Well, he's not in here.

Caillou: And he's not in the living room. Where is he? I need Gilbert for my game. Gilbert, Come here right now. Gilbert, you're a bad cat.

Storyteller: Caillou was starting to feel very mad at Gilbert. Where could he be hiding?

Mommy: What's going on, Caillou?

Caillou: I can't find Gilbert. He was supposed to wait for me in the living room.

Mommy: He's probably sleeping in one of the bedrooms. Let's go and look. We'll be like detectives.

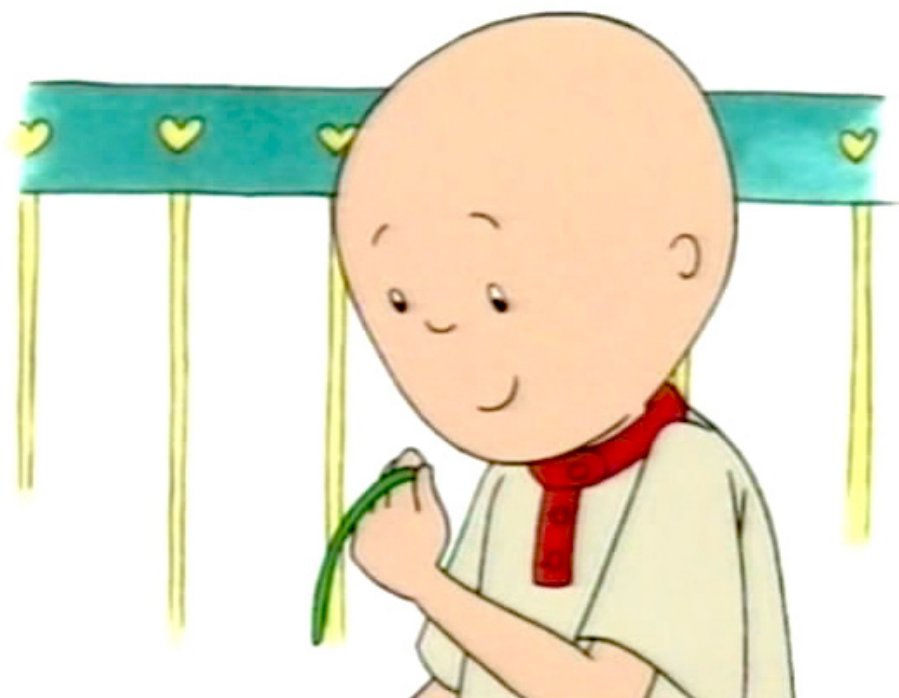

Caillou: Detectives? Hmmm...

Mommy: Well, if we're detectives, we'd better look for clues.

Caillou: What are clues?

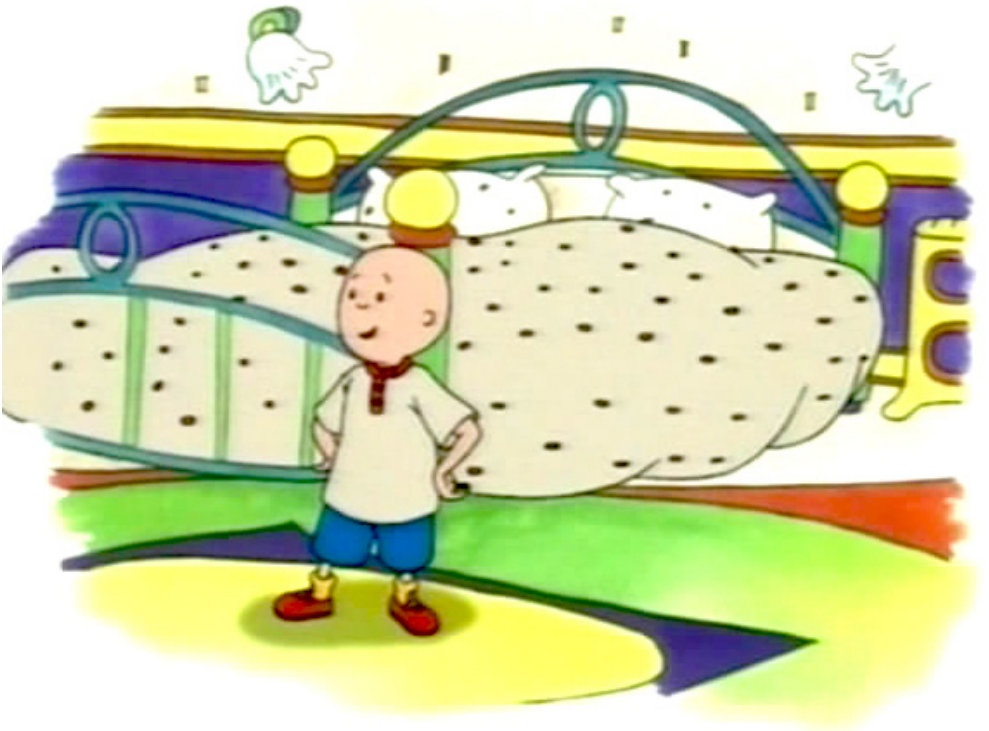

Mommy: A clue can be anything that helps us find Gilbert. So keep your eyes wide open.

Caillou: Is this a clue, Mommy?

Storyteller: Caillou had found the string from the dinosaur he and Gilbert had been playing with. That meant Gilbert must be nearby.

Mommy: That's a very good clue.

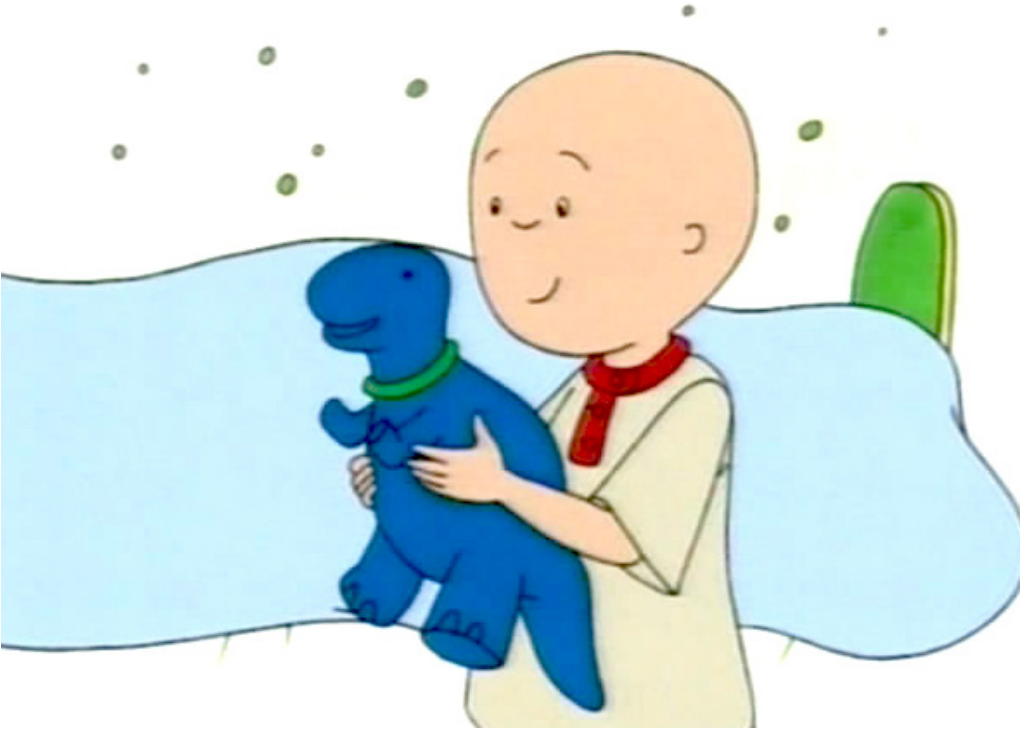

Caillou: Gilbert. He's not in here, Mommy.

Mommy: I think there's only one room we haven't looked in.

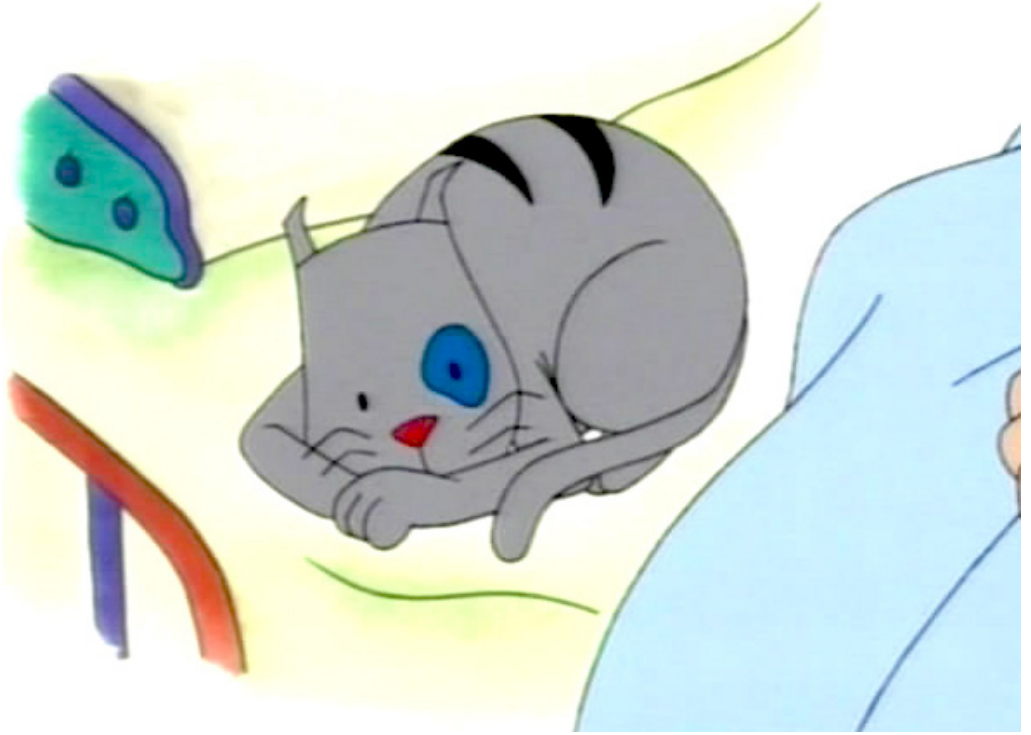

Caillou: My room. Gilbert, come out.
Gilbert?

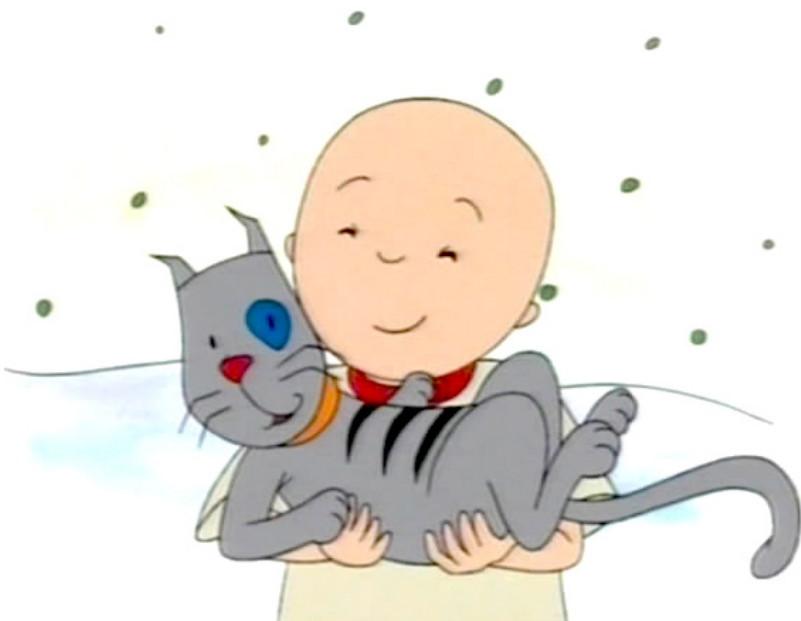

Caillou: Look, Mommy. The dinosaur.

Mommy: Another clue. Well, you're a good detective.

Caillou: I found him.
